A message from the Principal

Well done to all of our teachers at home! Our parents and caregivers, have continued their “students” learning journey and as their child’s first teacher they know them so well. I recognise when we teach our “class” we do not have toddlers running through the lesson nor do we have washing and dinner to prepare during our school day.

When we start teaching, it is very daunting. My advice to beginning teachers is to enjoy the moment and enjoy being with the students – build the relationships. They can smell your fear! But like any new apprentice, you are going to make mistakes and learn from them.

Mums, Dads and carers your main goal is to keep your children safe and happy. All children are in this same boat, and when they are back on land with us, we will catch them up. As they continue to learn at home, make it work for you - not against you. If you need any tips or tricks, please do not hesitate to call – and the thing I love best about this job is that every day is different!

Stage 6 Drama

Lauren Zell is the only senior drama student at Yeoval, but she more than makes up for it through her participation in a number of extra activities.

Lauren attended the NSW State Drama Camp. She spent 4 days taking part in different workshops and also saw a professional performance of 'Come From Away' a stage show about flights that were diverted to Newfoundland during the September 11 crisis. Lauren has brought back lots of creative ideas to share with the rest of her class.

Lauren as a member of the Western Arts Youth Council has the opportunity to meet other young people across the Western Region and discuss how to promote drama, dance, art and music in our local area.

WAP Year 11 students have completed their Group Performance – a self-devised play with a crime theme. Sherlock Holmes and Nancy Drew made an appearance!

WAP Year 12 students are polishing up their Individual Projects ready for submission for the Higher School Certificate. Their Group Performance was a devised play built on the concept of Earth, Wind, Fire and Water.
